Literacy Update:

We finished our life science unit on plants today. We will spend the next 4-5 weeks after break studying Kevin Henkes. He is a children's author and illustrator of many popular books that kids enjoy!

Math Update:

Next week we begin a unit on measurement. We will use non standard, as well as inches, feet, yards, centimeters and meters. We will continue to imbed word problems and algebra into our daily lessons as well. So far, the kids have loved learning about algebraic equations and finding "unknowns."

General information:

•No School: 11/24-11/25

To all my families: Many thanks for sharing your child
with me each and every day. They are a wonderful group of students! I am truly thankful!

Happy Thanksgiving~ Lisa
